

PBJ Connections Fees and Scholarship Information

The CONNECT program provides mental health and behavioral health therapy to youth and families using horses.

Individual and Family Equine Assisted Psychotherapy Sessions are $205. This includes a charge of $135 for the therapy, which your insurance may cover or partially cover; and $70 for the horses and equine specialist, which is a cost not covered by insurance. Your insurance will only cover the cost of a mental health professional in an equine assisted psychotherapy session. They will not cover the cost of the horses or the equine specialist. United Behavioral Healthcare and its subsidiaries will not cover equine assisted psychotherapy. This form will help us determine the scholarship amount your family need for mental health services through PBJ Connections. Scholarship funds come from grants, sponsorships and generous donors.

Your family will not be denied services if you are unable to cover the cost of the equine specialist and the horses. However, we ask you to consider what amount you can cover. We know this service is valuable to you and to others. Every dollar contributed helps us serve more youth and families.
